

Join the Aviation Training Partnership

IAAPS is a global association of aviation training organisations formed for the purpose of maintaining and improving standards of training for aviation personnel and to serve the joint interests of members within the aviation training industry.

Currently representing 32 member organisations, IAAPS aims to achieve its goals by:

- promoting appropriate standards to authorities and industry
- participating in discussions concerning training standards and methods
- representing members' interest to authorities, societies, suppliers & other relevant organisations

International Association of Aviation
Personnel
Schools

To find out more about IAAPS, our goals and membership opportunities, please visit:

www.iaaps.info